

The Indigenous Bulb Society of South Africa (IBSA) is once again presenting a Bulb and Corm Symposium at the Goudini Spa, near Worcester, from Monday 28 August to Friday 1 September 2006. Delegates book in on the afternoon of Sunday 27 August 2006.

The hotel is one of the premier hot springs spas of South Africa , 100 km north east of Cape Town across the Du Toitskloof in charming surroundings.

The first 2 days of the Symposium will consist of Lectures, Slide Shows and Talks covering aspects such as Cultivation, Morphology and Identification of South African bulbs and corms.

On the next 3 days we are going to visit sites around the Worcester area where we will be able to see some of the exquisite bulbs and corms that were discussed. We are going to explore some amazing locations, rich in bulbous flora. The farmers have promised their co-operation and we can look forward to some excellent botanising in the veld.

Visiting delegates from overseas or other parts of South Africa may wish to extend their excursions after the Symposium and we will offer advice re suitable areas and possible accommodation.

Transport for the Symposium excursions will be provided.

Attendance is not restricted to IBSA members.

It is our firm intention that this should be a working holiday for everyone. Goudini is central to such towns as Paarl, Worcester, Ceres and Tulbagh as well as to the famous scenic Passes of Du Toitskloof, Bainskloof, Mitchell and Franschoek. Goudini is also close to all the major Cape Vineyards. Come and enjoy a unique experience. You will meet fellow enthusiasts and make useful contacts.

THE COST

Single: USD $ 500

Shared: USD $ 450 each.

The price of the symposium includes accommodation, breakfast, lunch and dinners. Transport for the 3 excursion days is also included.

A deposit of USD $ 200 is payable by 31 – 03 – 2006. We will refund 80% of your deposit if cancellation is received 30 days or more prior to the first day of the symposium.

Payment can be made in US Dollars or equivalent in GB Pound or in Euros.
